PARLIAMENT.

Land Subsidies.

OTTAWA, 2.—The senate threw out the short line bill by a vote of 22 to 11. Sir John is said to have canvassed the senators in favor of the measure. Mr. Abbott, leader of the senate, states he will not accept the railways and canals portfolio offered to him by the government. The House will meet to-day at 11 o'clock. Prorogation is fixed for 3 p. m.

Mr. Dewdney moved the house into committee on the land subsidies to the railway company. Sir Richard Cartwright, elicited from Mr. Dewdney the following information:—Up to the present time the government have given 35,000,000 acres to railway companies, which together with the 5,000,000 now proposed to be voted, makes a total of 40,000,000 acres. The area of agricultural lands in the fertile belt Manitoba and the Northwest was 135,000,000 acres. By deducting the lands in Manitoba and the reserve of 40,000,000 acres for settlement corresponding with the area granted to railways it would be seen that the Dominion has now divested itself of nearly all the good agricultural land in the Northwest. Sir John Macdonald being asked if he had anything to say about this refused to be drawn into a discussion so late in the session.

Mr. Watson, on the subsidies to the Galt Coal company said that while the government were virtually building this line they should see that exorbitant rates were not charged. Coal from that mine sold in Winnipeg at $7.50 per ton, but in Calgary which is 500 miles nearer the mines, the price charged was $8.50 a ton. Cartwright said the government ought to interfere and prevent this discrimination. Mr. Dewdney said the evil would correct itself. The resolution passed.

He is suffering from a disease which three out of five of our city physicians pronounce as leprosy. Abbe Labrecque, Judge Routhier and M. de la Riviere addressed the meeting. Two resolutions were passed declaring his temporal power was necessary for the spiritual welfare of church and for the material interest of the peace and prosperity of the state.

MONTREAL, 3.—The Temiscouata Railway is being extended to give the Grand Trunk Railway access to Halifax and St. John. The route will have the advantage of being entirely on Canadian territory and free from the restrictions of the Interstate Commerce Law of the United States, or any interruption of the bonding system and will be practically as short as the C. P. R. line through Maine when the latter is completed.

C. P. R. Changes.

Oviatt, a student of the College of Physicians and Surgeons, of New York, was among the killed. John A. Murray, a tailor of Oshawa, Ont., is being injured for. Adam Forepaugh's agent is also missing.

Roundup a Defaulter.

RAT PORTAGE, 3.—A party under Chief Orier, left last night to go up the lake after Redden and surprised him on a point of the mainland, securing his tent, provisions and camping outfit, and arresting Joe Thompson, a canoe man. Redden escaped in the underbrush. The point has been surrounded and there is every hope of his capture.

Destructive Fire.

WINNIPEG, 6.—A destructive broke out in the Freeman block, Main street, shortly before midnight. The following business place are in ruins: Thos. Lyon's boot & shoe store; Geo. A. Anderson, pawnbroker; Mrs. Anderson, fruit store; Millstone, furniture; Simon Ripstein, auction room; Christ Church Guild Hall; Mrs. Paramenter, Stationery; Bell Bros., groceries; C. A. Baskerville & Co., hardware; Ed. McKeown, Nickel Plate Hotel; Jewish Synagogue and small stables and sheds, Zion Church and Franklin House had a close call. The loss is nearly $40,000. Ed. McKeown was burned badly while saving his child.

Ten or twelve freight cars were thrown from the track, eight of which were badly smashed and there, contents strewn about. The freight bills damaged cars was billed to Vancouver.

THE VACANT PORTFOLIO.

Senator Abbott Understood to be Selected for It.

MONTREAL, 30.—Last week there were circulated through the county of Argenteuil, copies of Senator Abbott's recent deliverance on fiscal affairs of the Dominion. This is taken as indicative of the intention to elevate Wilson to the Senate and give Abbott a portfolio with a seat in the Commons. The death of Mr. Pope and the impossibility of re-electing Colby for Stander are the facts which connect the name of Abbott with the portfolio of Railways, which, in view of the heavy railway subsidies granted the present session under out delay. More would be said with who was understood to have been opposed to Wilson's nomination for the Commons, is now absent from the county in Manitoba, and is therefore not here to object. It is thought that the county of Argenteuil, as one of the banner bearers of Protestantism, is an excellent field in which to open the political campaign on the Jesuits estate bill.

OTTAWA, 30.—Everything indicates that Hon. Mr. Abbott will receive the Railway portfolio. It is stated that he will resign from the C. P. R. directorate at the annual meeting in May.

More Victims Identified.

HAMILTON, 2.—The remains of two more charred victims of the disaster have been identified and taken away. They were those of Morgan P. Sculler of Chicago and H. S. Hall, a retired merchant of Evansville, Indiana. The remains of Mrs. Geo. Crummetts will be sent to Chicago to-morrow. It is almost certain that Charles J. C. Fraser of Toronto, J. L. Curnick of Chicago and J. B. Stearns of Camden, M. E. and Frederick Duthie and wife of Kansas City are among the dead. Duthie and his wife were expected at Toronto Sunday. A locket belonging to Duthie has been identified by his brother. Thirteen dead are thus far accounted for, leaving six bodies yet to be identified. The search through unclaimed baggage reveals the following names: H. Lavey, Chicago; Mrs. Smith, no address; Captain Butler, Cook County, insane asylum; Randall Orr, Omaha. At the coroner's inquest to-night, Captain Hall and David Walker, of Toronto, testified that at the time of the accident the train was not making more than 25 miles an hour.

FOREIGN.

From the World's Capital.

LONDON, 1.—The Parnell Commission resumed its session today after the Easter recess. Mr. Parnell was put in the witness box, he gave his testimony in a clear deliberate manner.

Carl Rosa, the famous violinist, died today of peritonitis.

The Duke of Edinburgh is progressing favorably.

Six Dervishes Executed.

LONDON, 3.—Despatches from Egypt say that six dervishes have been executed at Wady Halfa for outraging women and children.

The French President's Life in Danger.

PARIS, 6.—A man who gives his name as Perrin, and who says he is a marine storekeeper, fired a blank cartridge at President Carnot today, when the latter was leaving the Elysée Palace.

Vesuvius Threatens Destruction.

NAPLES, 6.—Vesuvius is again in an alarming state of eruption. Vast streams of lava are coming down the Pompeii side of the mountain threatening destruction.

Banqueting a Consul.

LONDON, 3.—A banquet was tendered to U. S. Consul General Waller tonight on his retiring from the office. A number of Royal Academicians attended the gathering, which was unique and brilliant.

The Yellow Fever.

BREMEN, 2.—The North German steamer "Weser" which sailed from Baltimore for this port April 17th, has arrived with 23 of the crew ill with yellow fever. Three died on the voyage.

Marquis of Lorne's Brother Dead.

LONDON, Despatches from South Africa announce the death there from fever of Lord Walter Campbell, third son of the Duke of Argyll and brother of the Marquis of Lorne.

England Rules the Waves.

LONDON, 5.—The returns of commerce of the Suez Canal show that 78 per cent. of the ships passing through the canal are British.

SAMOA.

To Have a Splendid Span New Constitution.

BERLIN, 5.—The committee appointed by the conference are busily engaged preparing a draft of a form of government for the Samoan Islands, which provides for native rulers and a constitutional tribunal. It is expected that the conference will also appoint a triumvirate council. Some fears are felt among members lest the strong feeling of Lord Salisbury toward German interests in this matter may endanger the successful termination of the work of the conference by estranging the American commissioners.

British Emigration.

LONDON, 2.—Careful enquiries in official respecting the emigration for this year. The official statistics are not yet published, but I find that the total general emigration for the first 4 months of this year from Liverpool, which is the chief emigration port, decreased 17,986 souls compared with that of last year. Canadian emigration declined by 4,738, during the four months. During April alone the Allan line carried 1,529 less; the Dominion line 1,229 less and the Beaver line 568 less. The condition of advanced bookings seems to indicate that this decline will continue during the season. Canadian circles would be inclined to take a rather gloomy view of the situation were not the Northwest receiving such excellent settlers from Ontario, Quebec and the United States.

Canadian Securities.

LONDON, 2.—In view of the pending release of large amounts by the British Government in repayment of old consols, Canadian in common with other good securities are advancing in price. Dominion issues have risen one-half to two per cent. during the past week. British Columbia and Quebec securities are up one to one and one-half per cent., and there is a similar movement in Toronto, Quebec city, Winnipeg and Ottawa loans. Canadian Pacifics are in strong favor and business is being done at 5 1/2. Hudson Bays are bought on rumours of a pending division of the capital into two classes, one secured on lands and the other on trading business. The rumors are at least premature.

Honoring New York's Ex-Mayor.

LONDON, 3.—Ex-Mayor Abram Hewitt of New York, is the guest of the Liberal Unionist club. He will be entertained at a banquet by Earl Derby on May 7th. The forthcoming banquet was engineered by the Irish Loyal patriotic union. In sending advance notices of the banquet to the press, the promoters of the entertainment made especial reference to the refusal of Mr. Hewitt to permit the Irish flag to fly from the city hall, but are not strictly accurate in detail, since they credit the then mayor of New York with having indignantly refused to have the "Fenian flag" displayed over the principal public building.

Our Fuel Supply.

A well known citizen of Calgary the other day received a letter from some Eastern friends who contemplated coming west, announcing that they had changed their minds because frightened by the announcement that there is a scarcity of fuel in Northwestern Canada. How this idea could become as prevalent as it is in the east, it is difficult to understand. While Manitoba and Assiniboia, with deposits of coal so near as the Souris and Alberta coal fields are well supplied with fuel, Alberta with its vast coal beds and the immense supplies of wood in the foothills, is better supplied with fuel than any part of North America. There is not the least doubt that the greater part of the Territory is underlaid with coal and outcroppings throughout the Territories will supply the settlers with cheap fuel until mining is carried on on something of an extensive scale. Even now mining operations on a small scale to supply local demands are being carried on at Sheep Creek, Fish Creek and other points, and farmers can get all the coal they want for $2 a ton at the mouths of the pits. What absurdity to speak of the scarcity of fuel in such a country as this.

THE HERALD AND FISK.

The Herald has, since the Fisk trial, received several indignant letters from readers calling upon this paper to denounce the jury for failing to bring in a verdict convicting the prisoner. A correspondent in a letter received today draws attention to the fact that the Tribune, the Edmonton Bulletin and other papers have criticized the jury and says that he is "more than surprised that the Herald has not felt itself called upon to express the abhorrence of this community at this disgraceful miscarriage of justice." Our correspondents will understand why the Herald has maintained silence, when they consider that Fisk has not yet been found guilty and that in the eyes of British justice a man is innocent until he is found guilty. The jury having failed to agree, Fisk is still on trial, and although the unfortunate fellow stands charged with one of the most brutal crimes it is possible to imagine, he must be given the fullest measure of fair play in defending himself. For a paper to express an opinion one way or another would be to influence to a more or less extent the minds of the men who will compose the jury which is next to try the prisoner for his life, and the Herald declines to be responsible for so unjust an act. Our contemporaries which have abused the old jury have certainly been guilty of a great indiscretion. It is all very well for our contemporary the Bulletin to exclaim, "The Northwest cannot afford to lose its reputation for a sound administration of justice, nor can Calgary as a town, afford to stand as the only place in the Northwest where murderers can go unpunished," but the newspaper of the Territories besides having a duty to perform in defence of the fair fame of the country, owes a duty to justice and to every man in the community, to be charged, but not proven guilty, mind you. The Herald believes that it best serves the interests of justice by withholding any opinions it might feel inclined to express with regard to the conduct of the old jury.

STATUTE LABOR DISTRICTS.

Now that a move is being made to secure the proclamation of the country just to the south of Calgary as a statute labor district, it is to be hoped that the whole country will soon be organized into similar districts. There is no doubt but that the system of statute labor is by far the most economical plan for putting the public roads into shape and keeping them so, and an extension of this system will remove, for a time at least, the adoption of the more cumbersome and expensive municipal system. The country will also gain in another way by the extension of the statute labor system. The money voted for the public works by the Assembly can be devoted to big works such as bridges, instead of being frittered away on trifling repairs to roads as at present.

We hope that in time a provision will be made for expropriating lands for public works, such as road, outside of the road allowance. It not infrequently happens that the road allowance necessitates the construction of highway up precipitous hills to take the place of trails now fenced across, as in the case now so loudly complained of at Sheep Creek. The power of expropriating land should certainly be given, and it should be vested in the foremen of the statute labor districts.

This first move towards putting the statute labor law in force promises well for the country.

PROHIBITION IN THE UNITED STATES.

Prohibition appears to be about going to the wall in the United States. According to the Victoria Colonist a prohibition amendment to the constitution of the State of Massachusetts was defeated by a large majority. The vote stood 88,606 for prohibition and 158,195 against. This shows that Massachusetts is a long way from being prepared for prohibition. It is evident that the cause of prohibition is not making much headway in either the United States or Canada just now. In none of the States in which it has been established does prohibition prohibit. Like the Scott Act in Canada, it is violated openly with impunity. In New Hampshire, Rhode Island and Massachusetts have the late efforts of the prohibitionists to strengthen their position been defeated. The prohibition fight has been long and severe in the United States. It is now forty-three years since the first prohibitory statute was enacted. The Maine law has been in force thirty-eight years. The prohibition question was introduced into national politics. It was an element in several presidential elections, but the success of the party was not by any means encouraging. Constitutional amendments in favor of prohibition have been introduced into the Legislatures of no fewer than seventeen States, but in only two besides Maine have they been carried. These are in Kansas and Iowa. Opinions differ as to the success of prohibition in these States.

Prohibition is coming into favor in many States. It is said to work well. Its success in Pennsylvania is declared to be signal and it has done a great deal of good in Minnesota and Wisconsin. We see that a high license law is likely to be introduced into Massachusetts. A peculiar feature of the late contest in Massachusetts was that many of the small liquor sellers on Lowell voted for the amendment, giving as their reason that a prohibitory law could be easily, while they could not carry on their business under a high license law.

RED POLLED ANGUS.

It will doubtless interest many of our readers to know that a large and very valuable consignment of highly pedigreed breeding cattle from Mr. Cochrane's famed herd at Hillhurst, Que passed through Calgary per special freight train yesterday afternoon. There was a stop of half an hour at Calgary, and a number of gentlemen took the opportunity thus afforded of having a look at the animals. It could be seen at a glance that the whole were of a very superior class, and the general regret was that they could not be better seen in the cars. They consisted largely of Herefords, bulls, cows and heifers, and there were about the same number of each class of the famous Polled Aberdeen. Of the latter it appears Mr. Cochrane has been bringing out a new strain which we have not heard of before, viz: Red Polled Aberdeen. Mr. E. Cochrane who was in charge of this fine lot of animals, explained that the Reds are purely the offspring of the blacks and are now being cultivated at Hillhurst as a separate and distinct strain of Polled cattle. It is not for us to speculate or pronounce upon this invasion, for invasion it must be called on the domain of this princely breed of cattle that have of late come so prominently to the front as a pure and distinct race, so distinct that even a white flank or white heel is looked upon as a blemish in the most famous herds of the Old Country, the country of their nativity and birth. Be that as it may for the present. We are satisfied of one thing, viz: That no such herd of magnificent animals ever passed through the Territories before. The Herefords were really a magnificent lot, of great length and style, full of quality and flesh, many a show of themselves. The Black Polls were perhaps equally attractive and grand. In fact a more magnificent lot of cattle could scarcely be found in a national show yard. We understand a number of the animals are on their way for delivery to British Columbia breeders who have recently purchased from Mr. Cochrane for breeding purposes.

The whole of the animals are to rest at Cochrane for a little, which will afford an opportunity for local breeders to inspect the choicest and most valuable lot of breeding cattle that has ever entered the N. W. Territories.

THE CATTLE QUARANTINE.

Those who some time ago tried to get up an agitation in favor of the abolition of the cattle quarantine at the American frontier appear to have abandoned their task as hopeless. At any rate they have had nothing to say for their hobby for a long time. We hope that this silence is due to the fact that those who opposed the quarantine, have become convinced of the danger of tampering with the quarantine for it is difficult to believe that there are any so short sighted as not to have been convinced by this time that the quarantine is a matter of vital importance to the best interests of the cattle industry. Proof of the necessity of maintaining the quarantine is being constantly afforded, as for instance by the present agitation in England against foreign cattle. The last London Canadian Gazette thus pointedly referred to the importance to the Canadian cattle industry of the cattle quarantine:—"Canadian breeders and shippers will do well to profit by the agitation which is now awaying the British agricultural community in regard to the danger of the introduction of cattle disease from foreign countries. So strong is the feeling that no possible risk should be incurred, that the introduction of live stock from Germany has been absolutely prohibited, while there seems some probability that the door will also be shut against the Netherlands, even though that country declares that it can show a clean bill of health. Canadians will therefore be wise if they maintain with full rigour all the quarantine and other precautionary measures which have in the past kept their herds free from disease. They will do well to watch with care all vessels bringing horses and cattle to Canada, and see that they are thoroughly disinfected before any live stock for these markets are put on board. Should any laxity be shown in these respects Canada may at any moment have turned upon her the full brunt of British agricultural opinion, with, perhaps, very disastrous results to her important export industry; for if Canada were once scheduled on account of the presence of foot-and-mouth disease not alone would her live cattle be prevented from landing as now on British shores, but there would also be a prohibition of her landing cattle for slaughter as in the case of the United States. The moment is then opportune for a word of caution."

OKLAHOMA AND THE NORTHWEST.

The district of Oklahoma, until recently part of the Indian reservation and just thrown open to settlement, is the all engrossing point of interest in the Western States just now. People, settlers and speculators, are crowding into the country by thousands and the American and Canadian papers are filled with accounts of this remarkable boom. Naturally a large number of those who crowded into Oklahoma have been disappointed and this leads the Montreal Star to publish the following:—"It is said there were ten times as many disappointed in not getting lots in the new Oklahoma territory as there were of those who succeeded. The chief attraction of Oklahoma is the climate. It just suited the Indians, and for years the white people have envied it. But there are other places than Oklahoma, and in the direction of these other places the disappointed ones should now turn their footsteps. All through the Canadian Northwest are to be found fine grazing and farming districts, where land is to be had for the asking and where the climate is all that could be desired. People are apt to think of the whole region of country lying between Manitoba and British Columbia as being of exactly the same character, not only as regards soil, but as regards climate, the fact being that there is a decided difference. In some places, in the neighborhood of Calgary, for example, the winter does not exceed two or three months in the year, while even in the coldest parts there are compensating advantages to the man who raises wheat, the wheat being of a better quality, and bringing a higher price. With many persons in the United States Oklahoma became a monomania. People flocked to it from all quarters, not so much because of what they knew of the country as because of the noise that had been made regarding it. But the thing has been overdone, and the reaction that inevitably succeeds such abnormal movements will soon set in. From all this the Canadian Northwest should derive some benefit. Its advantages are known on all hands and if people are looking for a home they could not do better than turn their eyes to the Canadian Northwest, whose progress and development are not a matter of boom but of steady movement. It seems odd that so much fuss should be made in regard to the poor land of Oklahoma, when so much better land is to be had in the vast region lying between Manitoba and British Columbia."

AN AMERICAN QUEEN FOR ENGLAND.

It will be interesting to everybody and gratifying to those who confidently look forward to the time when the Anglo-Saxon race shall be united in one confederacy or nation to learn that the question of securing an alliance by marriage between the Prince of Wales' eldest son, prospective heir to the British throne, and an American lady is being discussed with considerable earnestness in England.

Much has been printed about the Queen's visit to the Prince and Princess of Wales at Sandringham. Little is really known except what happened in public. There is a theory that a family council has been held and that various family questions have been discussed. Supposing that to be true, no decision that could have been taken would be valid without the approval of her Majesty's Ministers. Two subjects are said to occupy the Queen's mind—a financial settlement for the eldest son of the Prince of Wales, Prince Albert Victor, commonly called Prince Eddie, and his marriage. This prince is now twenty-five years old and has no separate establishment, no income of his own, no wife, and no immediate prospect of marrying. No Minister has yet ventured to ask Parliament for an allowance. There would be opposition, and rather than face the discussion which is sure to be raised, the Prince of Wales himself is supposed to have applied to his son-in-law. As he must marry a Protestant, his choice among the European daughters of royalty is strictly limited. None of them seems a favorite.

In these circumstances Sir Edward Sullivan has conceived the notion that the Prince should marry an American. Why should he not ask Sir Edward; and he proceeds to argue the question at length. Such an alliance, he thinks, would bring about a closer intimacy between the two nations. Americans, in his opinion, would like to see one of Columbia's daughters sharing the throne of England—he had better have said the prospect of the throne—and thirty-four millions in England would welcome with delight a Queen of their own blood, breed, and speech. Sir Edward, like most Englishmen, admires the American girl, and the American people generally. He believes the two great English-speaking peoples destined to rule the world, and advocates such a marriage on international and political grounds. This suggestion has been heard before, but perhaps nobody has seriously urged it except Sir Edward Sullivan. So strong is the feeling in England against more Anglo-German marriages that an Anglo-American alliance might well enough be popular for that, as for many other reasons.

STOCK.

Mr. VanVolkenburg left Wednesday for Vancouver with 152 fat steers for his meat business in Victoria, Vancouver and New Westminster. The cattle were chiefly purchased from the Northwest Cattle Company, of which Mr. Fred Stinson is manager.

A Splendid Lot of Horses.

[From Wednesday's Daily.]

Mr. Jamieson of Brandon this morning shipped for Manitoba undoubtedly the finest car load of horses which have ever been sent out of Alberta. This band numbering 16 head was purchased from the Quorn Ranch Company. They are all three or four year olds and were reared on the Company's ranch at Mesquite Creek. They are all out of native Montana mares by a native Montana stallion. A most remarkable fact is that every one of these animals is larger than its sire and from one to two hands higher than its mother, showing that the Alberta climate and pasturage is such as to improve the breed of horses. There was not one of these horses under sixteen hands, and some of them run nearer to seventeen. They are all sound and halter broken. It is understood they realized $125 a head.

Heavy Losses in the Cattle Trade.

Messrs. Macrorie and Thomson, stock-brokers, Edinburgh, have issued their annual comparative statement of the cattle companies' balance-sheets for the year 1888. The list deals with ten companies, and shows that only three—the Western Ranches, Huston, and Matador—have paid dividends. The Matador dividend was 2s per share as compared with nothing for the previous two years, and the shares—£10, of which £6 is paid—stood at 48s 9d, or a decrease of 1s 3d on the year. The return has thus been only 4d per £1. The Huston dividend was three per cent., paid on a capital the shares composing which were reduced from £5 to 3 pounds, while their market value has risen from 21s to 30s, a fact which shows the wisdom of the directors in making the reduction and boldly facing their loss. The Western Ranches also reduced their capital by lowering the 5 pounds shares to 3 pounds each, and they have yielded a return of 5s per share, which has sent the value of the shares from 45s to 60s 3d. This is the only company whose shares stand at all near the book value. At the bottom of the list stands the Swan Company, whose 10 pound shares, 7 pound 2s paid, can be bought for nothing, the purchaser receiving 8s per share to take them. Two calls amounting to 26s have, however, been resolved on. The debit balance of the Texas Company is 99,406 pounds; that of the Arkansas Company, 87,288 pounds; that of the Western, 37,199 pounds; and that of the Cattle Ranch, 110,490 pounds. The 5 pounds fully paid stock of the latter company is valued at 20s, and its debit balance, large though it is, is 4,000 less than the previous year. The Swan Company, in addition to having a debit balance of 4,121, has at the debit of the suspense account for shortage of herds 403,964 pounds, as against 364,349 the previous year; while the prairie company estimate their decrease in herds at 94,369 pounds, and the debit balance in the accounts is 8,672. The 6 pound shares of the latter company are valued at 12s. Altogether, the register shows that the investing or speculative British public have lost an enormous sum of money in cattle companies, with little prospect of realizing benefits from more than a fraction of their capital.

Leicester or Down Cross on Merinos.

We are asked by "New Breeder" how far a Long-wool or Down cross can properly be carried on Merinos. There are different opinions on this question, some avering that the improvements continues to and including the third cross. But the question arises as to the precise nature of the improvement. If we grant improvement of mutton, is not the wool deteriorated as much as the mutton is improved? Some say the wool runs too much to the Long-wool type, producing a lighter and coarser fleece. The first cross improves the mutton, giving also a good fleece. Some would use the produce of the first as breeding ewes for a second cross, but all the produce of the second cross as early lambs or afterwards as mutton using only the ewe lambs of the first cross as breeders, and when these have bred as long as possible, get up another flock. Some who have followed this plan have been successful, selling the early lambs and also mutton at a good price. But others think the best system is to select stout Merino ewes, and use these as a breeding flock for several years, serving each year with a vigorous Southdown ram, and selling the produce as early lambs or as fat yearlings, selecting a new breeding flock every three or four years. Others think that the best formed ram of the third cross of them, may be selected and bred upon third cross ewes, and that a breed may thus soon be produced that will breed comparatively true, and that this breed will combine the valuable characteristics of both Merino and Southdown, the former improving the wool and the latter the mutton. This latter plan has been used in England in fixing the Shropshire and other Downes. We might, at least, make more thorough experiments in this line than we have as yet done. We hope our correspondent will try the experiment of the third cross. He need not try it on more than ten breeding ewes.—North Pacific Rural Spirit.

Draft Horses.

A bit of the clearest possible evidence of the prosperity of the draft horse industry reaches this office. As is well understood, many of the imported draft stallions are purchased "on time," stallions giving their note for the payment of the purchase price at such time as may be agreed upon, relying upon the service fees of the horse for the means of meeting the obligation incurred. A great many of these colts are now maturing, and we learn from importers who are conducting an extensive business that the paper is properly taken up by the stallion owners as fast as it falls due. One importer states that out of a large business not one note has failed of prompt payment. This certainly indicates that the enterprise of stallion owners, who banked on the future of their purchases, has been liberally rewarded by the patronage accorded their horses. There is money in the draft-horse business—money for the breeders, the importer, the stallion owner and the man who patronizes the pedigree stock horse.—Breeder's Gazette.

Stumbling Horses.

Any kind of a horse is liable to blunder once in a while. The most sure-footed horse will sometimes stumble when ridden or driven over rough roads. Drivers should expect this, and try to avoid it when possible; but when it cannot be avoided the next best thing is to treat an unfortunate animal as kindly as possible when such accidents occur. The usual practice when a horse happens to lose his balance is for the driver to lose his temper and his judgement at the same time, and fall to beating the poor brute just as if it were to blame for the misfortune. It is but just and right to act upon the principle that no one can be blamed for that which he cannot help, and acting upon this assumption no man should be guilty of mistreating poor horse when he happens to blunder.

Mr. Wm. Cochrane has sold his fast quarter horse "Infinite" to George Skelving. He will probably take part in the spring races, and if he is fit, it will take a race horse to beat him.—Macleod Gazette.

A car load of Holstein cows, calves and heifers, arrived this morning from Amherst N.S., and are now housed at Ford's livery stable. They were shipped a week ago last Thursday and came through without loss or injury. There are 17 of them.

WILLOW CREEK STOCKMEN.

Annual General Meeting of the Willow Creek Stock District.

The annual general meeting of the members of the Willow Creek Stock District took place in the town hall at Macleod yesterday afternoon at three o'clock.

Mr. C. Sharples, of the Windsor Ranch Co., president of the association, occupied the chair.

The following gentlemen were present. The names in parentheses are the outfits represented by those present: Messrs. H. Harris, (W. G. Coult); Steve Cleveland, (I. G. Baker & Co.); J. Reid; J. Pierce; J. Gies; D. R. Browning; R. J. Christie; Jas. Daly, H. S. Pinhorn, (New Oakley Ranch Co.); C. A. Lyndon; A. D. McDonald, (Glenagarry Ranch Co.); C. Ryan; Harry White, (Oakley Ranch); Andrews, (70 outfit); Wilder; James Patterson; G. W. Friele, (Walrond Ranch); McLean, (Sypress Cattle Co.); Jos. Monty, E. Mansell; E. R. Cowen, (Frank Strong estate); C. Sharples, (Winder Ranch.)

The reports of the secretary-treasurer were read and adopted.

The election of officers was proceeded with and resulted as follows: President, C. Sharples; Vice-President, H. S. Pinhorn; Secy.-treas., D. J. Campbell.

The following delegates to attend the meeting at Macleod of the Alberta Stock Growers' Association were chosen: H. Harris, Jas. Patterson, D. R. Browning, W. H. Friele, W. Hyde, A. R. McDonald.

It was decided that the round-up should start on May 20th.

Resolved that the round-up be divided into two outfits this year, one for the west side of Willow Creek and the other for the east side; that the west side party start at the upper end of the Walrond Range and work up the west side of Willow Creek to Mosquito Creek, and that the east side party meet near Samson's, and work down both sides of the Little Bow and up the Old Mans' River, both meeting about the eight mile lake.

The two captains are: west side round-up, H. White; east side, H. Harris.

Ford's stable has been an attraction all day for cattle men, thanks to the splendid herd of Holstein cattle at present there in charge of Mr. Page of Amherst, Nova Scotia. The herd consists of one good He. elord bull and sixteen Holsteins all of standard breeds and several of them imported. A more promising lot of animals than the Holsteins it would be difficult to imagine. Despite their long journey, they are in such a condition as to warrant the admiration of all those who inspect them. The animals are of good size and frame and appear to come well up to the most desirable standard, a combination of good milkers and good beef growers. It is sincerely to be hoped that this herd will be kept in Alberta.

Darwin's Theory.

Darwin's theory of the "survival of the fittest" is simply that the weakly die, while the robust and hardy thrive and live. How true is this of all seed growth and how necessary to sow only that which is suited by nature to live and develop.

B. M. Ferry & Co., the great seed growers and seed dealers, of Detroit, Michigan, and Windsor, Ontario, supply only the best and purest, raising their own seeds by the most improved methods and with the greatest care, bringing to their business the invaluable aid of more than thirty years' experience. Their seed annual for 1889 is a real help to the gardener, and should be in the hands of all who desire to purchase pure and true seeds. Send your name to the firm's address at Windsor, Ontario, and they will forward you a copy.

To Illustrate the Northwest.

The publishers of the Dominion Illustrated, G. E. Desbarats & Son, Montreal, announce their intention of giving special prominence to matters affecting Western Canada, with a view of disseminating knowledge concerning the resources, scenery and people of the Great West. There is certainly ample field here for subjects which may be taken up to advantage, by our excellent illustrated journal. People in the East, who nearly all have friends in the West, will also be interested in anything concerning this country. A simple illustration will often convey to the mind more distinct knowledge than can be imparted in columns of reading matter. J. H. Brownlee, of Brandon, has been appointed special agent in the West for the Dominion Illustrated, and correspondence concerning the journal, photographs, sketches, etc., should be forwarded to him. It will certainly be in the interest of this country to have its resources and features set forth in this excellent journal.

Lord Lonsdale.

Lord Lonsdale, who has been far north since early in February, 1888, passed through Calgary on his way to England this morning. During his trip he penetrated 200 miles into the Arctic circle. From February, 1888 till April, 1889, his Lordship never entered a house. He travelled altogether by boat or dog train. During his trip he collected some 200 specimens of ores, which he takes to England to assay. He has also over 200 different varieties of birds, animals, &c., which he will have stuffed at home. He takes also three fine Esquimaux dogs and one sea otter dog; these latter are alive. His party consisted entirely of Indians, except one white man. Being a thorough English sportsman, his Lordship entered most heartily in the whale and seal hunting of the Esquimaux. He procured very valuable information for the British Government in reference to the resources of the great north country. As the information is private for the present, he did not want any particulars mentioned further than that it is a fact that the great gold discoveries lately made on the Yukon River are unquestionably at least ten miles within the British line along the Alaska frontier. Lord Lonsdale intends publishing a full report of his trip in book form in a short time.

Imperial Bank.

A branch of the Imperial Bank of Canada has recently been opened at Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario, under the management of Mr. G. C. Easton. The above bank redeems the bills of the Molson's Bank at par at all its branches.

The Canmore Mines.

The foundation of a very large and lucrative business has been well and carefully laid in our midst with so much caution and modesty as to scarcely have become known to the people of Calgary. Two years or more ago Mr. C. Brickenhoff visited the mountains west of Calgary on business, and being a mining engineer by profession and having had twenty years' experience in coal at Scranton, Penn., he took in the situation in the Gap, as the entrance to the mountains is called, and decided that all the anthracite coal of the district was not contained in the mines already opened. He prospected and found what satisfied him that there were immense beds of Anthracite yet to develop. He proceeded quickly to purchase the land at Canmore, which contained the leads, and then formed a company in St. Paul and they have now commenced operations in earnest. Although their plant is not completed, they are now getting 18 tons per day and in a short time they will be getting out 150 tons per day, which output can be almost indefinitely increased when freight arrangements are made for shipping to British Columbia and San Francisco. The writer has been shown a specimen of this coal which is certainly very fine. The promoter states that the vein is 13 feet thick with absolutely no rock or slate.

Suppressing Breweries.

In various towns throughout the Northwest, breweries have been shut down by the Inland Revenue officers, and their proprietors ordered not to brew any more beer. Many of these breweries have been running for years, and have been engaged in the manufacture of what is supposed to be pure beer. It has never yet, to our knowledge, been conclusively proved that the beer is intoxicating. However, that may be, breweries have not been suppressed on the ground that their beer was intoxicating. In one case in Macleod, no reason was given at all, the proprietor was simply ordered not to make any more beer. It was not tested, and as far as any evidence of its strength was concerned, it might have been a purely temperance beverage.

This abominable injustice seems the harder to put up with when it is remembered that four per cent. beer is admitted to the Territories, and can be sold over the bar in hotels. Fancy any considerable number of people in free Canada being prohibited from manufacturing what they are allowed to consume without any restriction whatever! Fancy the government saying to an Ontario miller: "We have decided to prohibit the manufacture of flour in your province. The people are, of course, to use all the flour they like, but they must get it from Quebec, Nova Scotia or the United States, they can't make it themselves!" And yet this is just what they are saying to the people of the Northwest. They deliberately shut down industries which are the means of keeping money in the country, and force the people to patronize eastern brewers, both in Canada and the United States.

What a disgraceful state of affairs! What a perfect mockery of liberty it is which the people of the Northwest enjoy! "You can freely import and drink four per cent. beer, but you must not make it. It is a crime if you patronize any but Milwaukee or eastern Canadian breweries!" Is this part of the great National Policy? Is this oppression worthy only of the dark ages, the policy of the Conservative government? Are the members from the Northwest consenting parties to this gross outrage? Do they propose to submit to seeing the people who sent them to parliament thus insulted? Is this the kind of justice that the eastern prohibitionists believe in? If it is, God save the country from them. In common with every part of the Northwest Territories, we call upon our four members, Messrs. Dewdney, Davis, Davin and Macdowal to put an end to the present trifling of the government with this question. Let them leave the liquor question proper to be dealt with by the next Assembly, if they like, but let them see to it that, if four per cent. beer can be imported, it can be manufactured.—Macleod Gazette.

AMERICAN.

The Cent.

WASHINGTON, 1.—The Centennial thanks giving service was celebrated yesterday morning. President Harrison occupied Washington's pew in St. Paul's Church. In the afternoon there was an imposing military parade. It took five hours to pass the reviewing stand. In the evening the President attended the banquet at the Metropolitan Opera House. It was a brilliant affair. The day was observed as a general holiday throughout the United States.

CHICAGO, 1.—During a display of fireworks last night a runaway team caused a frightful panic among the spectators, who scattered in every direction. During the uproar a package of fireworks exploded and many people were injured; women and children suffering terribly in the general scattering. One report estimates that one thousand people sustained injury of some sort.

CHICAGO, 1.—The Windsor Theatre was destroyed by fire last night. Three firemen were injured. The loss is $50,000. Hon. W. H. Barnum Dead.

Disgraceful Scenes.

NEW YORK, 2.—Both the Herald and Sun yesterday morning asserted that the closing scenes at the inaugural ball at the Metropolitan Opera House yesterday morning were disgraceful. Wine flowed in great abundance and many intoxicated men and some disreputable women were carousing in the supper room and on the dancing floor. Many irresponsible persons without tickets are said to have been admitted by the door keepers. The crowd became so great and boisterous that dancing was out of the question, and respectable people present made haste to quit the building. The hilarity was kept up till shortly after 4 o'clock, when the police were instructed to clear the house.

An Indian Raid.

FORT CUSTER, Mon., 4.—This morning a courier rode into the post here and reported that a party of strange Indians had swept across Lehigh Valley during the night, raiding the Crow reservation about sixteen miles south of Custer. The raiders ran off with a lot of stock belonging to the Crows and escaped into the hills. Immediately upon the receipt of the intelligence, the post commander ordered out a detachment composed of twenty men of the cavalry, three Crow scouts and an interpreter, under the command of Lieut. Barber. They will cut a trail at the scene of the depredations and follow it until the thieves abandon the stock or are overtaken and captured. It is expected that the trail will lead north, as the courier reports that the various articles thrown away by the raiders identify them as Assiniboine Sioux. The Crows believe them to be a small party that raided the reservation last summer and ran off a few ponies but were overtaken by the Crows and literally shot to pieces.

Mr. John Eastwood, wholesale stationer and proprietor of the Hamilton Times, left for home by this morning's No. 2 express train. He says he enjoyed himself immensely during the two days spent here, and felt that he was leaving before he had learned more than a tithe of what there is of useful information to learn about this town and district.

The funeral of the late James Morris took place this afternoon from the residence of Mr. Wm. Martin to Knox Church thence to the Protestant Cemetery. The pall bearers were Messrs. James Reilly, Geo. C. King, Robert Fletcher, Jos. Bannerman, M. Harris and M. Gouin. A large cortege of mourners followed the remains to their last resting place. At Knox Church an impressive service was held by Rev. J. C. Herdman.

R. L. Ogilvie, of California, is registered at the Royal Hotel.

A case of violation of the Prairie and Forest Fire Ordinance was tried before Justices Murdoch and Millward this morning, but as it was shown that the fire was raging long before it approached Mr. Patterson (defendant's) place. The case was dismissed with costs against the prosecution.

The case of Mr. Bannister vs Winters and Travis is still occupying the attention of the Supreme Court. The evidence is largely of a technical nature and consequently to a great extent uninteresting to the general public. The trial is not wholly devoid of interest however, thanks to the terse and often annoyingly put interruptions of ex-judge Travis.

A well attended meeting of Englishmen was held last evening at the Royal Hotel, when the Calgary St. Georges Society was re-organized with the following officers:—President, G. C. King; 1st Vice-President, A. D. Braithwaite; 2nd Vice-President, W. R. Hull; Treasurer, Wm. Slingsby; Secretary, W. W. Whitmore; Committee, Messrs. E. J. Chambers, Alfred Brealey, A. E. Shelton, T. J. Benskin, Amos Rowe.

Mr. Rutan, City Engineer of Winnipeg, arrived here this morning to confer with the special committee of the Town Council regarding the water works scheme submitted by the Calgary Gas & Water Works Company. Today Mr. Rutan was busy all day with the committee examining the plans and inspecting the proposed site of the engine house, etc. Mr. Rutan does not expect to get through with his investigations until tomorrow.

Friday.

Under instructions of the local members of the Legislative Assembly, Langevin bridge is being repaired, nuts tightened, etc.

Capt. McIlroy, N.W.M.P. and Mr. J. R. Codrigan, Crown prosecutor, left yesterday for Sheep Creek to try several cases of infringement of the prairie fire ordinance.

The settlers in the south west of Pine Creek, are complaining because Mr. Jamieson is about to fence in the trail at his place, necessitating the beating of a new trail up the face of a precipitous hill.

Mr. Geo. A. Stewart, Superintendent of the National Park, and his daughter, Miss Grace Stewart, are at the Royal Hotel. Mr. Stewart states that the work of improving the park has fairly commenced for the season and that large improvements will be made this year.

A new company has taken over the business of the Hutchings Saddlery Company, the members of the firm being Mr. H. J. Hutchings and Mr. W. J. Riley, and the title Hutchings & Riley. Mr. Riley is well known in this district as a splendid tradesman, while Mr. Hutchings since his arrival here has made a host of friends. The new firm is a strong one.

The trial in the sheep case dragged its way along to-day. The evidence for the prosecution was finished at half past twelve. Ex Judge Travis asked for an adjournment until tomorrow. He stated as his reason that he intended to move for a non-suit and wished to look up authorities. His Lordship ruled that jury cases could not be so adjourned but gave Mr. Travis until 3 P.M. to get ready.

Mr. James Bannerman has applied to the Lieutenant-Governor to proclaim the triangular district bounded on the north-west by the Indian reserve and the Town of Calgary, on the northeast by the Bow and on the south by Fish Creek a statute labor and fire district. Mr. Bannerman, as required by statute, informs His Honor that there are a hundred settlers in the district. As a matter of fact there are many times that number.

Saturday.

No. one express train from the east, due at 1:35, did not arrive till 7 a. m., cause, heavy train.

The express train from the east this morning passed through heavy rain about 60 miles east of Calgary.

C. Brinckenhoff, manager of the Canmore Anthracite coal mines went west by No. two express this morning.

D. L. Scott, Q. C. of Regina, who is retained for the suit of Reilly vs Martin is still at the Royal Hotel waiting for the sheep case to get through.

The famous sheep case being tried before the supreme court was continued yesterday afternoon, when ex-judge Travis closed his case for non-suit, in which he occupied a couple of hours, the court rose.

The town lay under a thick cloud of smoke all day. A glare in the direction of the mountains last night appeared to indicate that such fires were raging up there and the smoke is probably thus accounted for.

Twenty two horses in all were purchased at Maple Creek by Commissioner Herchmer for the police force. Eighteen from the Oxheart rancho. The horses are fine animals averaging about 15 hands 3 inches.—Lethbridge News.

The High Court of Justice was occupied during the whole forenoon with Mr. P. McCarthy's reply to ex-judge Travis' arguments and quotations in support of his "move for a non-suit." Mr. McCarthy had not finished when the court rose at twelve for lunch.

The faces of everybody brightened up considerably yesterday afternoon when a steady shower of rain set in. Fears were expressed that it would not last, and unlimited satisfaction was expressed when it continued. When people got up this morning moisture was still falling, but in the shape of soft snow and everybody was jubilant for this is acknowledged to be the best form for moisture to descend in as it is absorbed into the ground instead of running off. Presentation to Mrs. Pinkham.

On Wednesday afternoon a number of ladies of the Cathedral parish met at the deanery and presented Mrs. Pinkham with two beautiful lamps—a piano lamp and a large table lamp with brass pedestal. Mrs. Pinkham made the presentation on behalf of the ladies, and said that the friends of Mrs. Pinkham at St. John's could not allow her to leave Winnipeg for her distant home without carrying with her some token of their esteem and affection. They therefore requested her acceptance of the lamps as a slight memento. They trusted that these lamps might be emblematic of Mrs. Pinkham's life in her new home. The use of a lamp was to give light, to brighten and to cheer. They trusted that Mrs. Pinkham might be a light to those among those whom she dwelt, and might also cheer and comfort her husband in his arduous work. Her friends at St. John's would always think of her with affection. Mrs. Pinkham, who was taken wholly by surprise, was very much affected, and after thanking those present, requested that she might acknowledge their kindness in a more suitable manner later on.—Winnipeg Sun.
